

We the small WISPs and ISPs of the US would like to have some of Unlicensed Operation in the TV Broadcast Bands unlicensed so we can offer IP services to our communities with good small-town customer service that many of us in the United States want. Please do not take the entire spectrum and push it off to the highest bidder so that we are all being served as the masses with customer service that takes 2 to 3 days for a service call and begins through 12 menus through 3 countries before getting a completed work order. Americans deserve and want choices that include companies that are not massive and treat you as a number.

The current trend in Washington is to support the huge corporation, yet the huge corporation is no longer a life-time employer for the American worker. Many of us in rural America would like to have technology companies in our communities instead of having to drive an hour to get a computer repaired or get an issue resolved. Small technology companies have to be diverse in order to survive and need to be able to offer diverse services. Please allow us to survive and not only keep technology jobs in the US, but also in our communities.

If Washington continues to erode away our opportunities, I will be forced to close my doors, let my 8 employees go and close the only viable technology center within 50 miles of our community. Please take these comments into consideration as you deliberate on your decision.
